

Misco Awarded CPC Framework for the Second Consecutive Time

Wellingborough UK, April 2011 – Starting the 11th of April and for a 2-year period with an option to extend for an additional two years, Misco will be part of the Crescent Purchasing Consortium (CPC) Desktop Hardware and Peripherals framework. With 682 member institutions and over £139 million spent by its members on ICT equipment over the last three years, CPC provides Misco with instant industry credibility and increased reach in the Education sector.

Mike Williams, Public Sector Sales Manager for Misco, says “Being awarded the CPC Desktop Hardware and Peripherals framework agreement for the second consecutive time demonstrates Misco’s ongoing commitment to providing the public sector with first class products and services. We’re very proud of this achievement and look forward to serving new CPC members through our innovative partnerships.” The agreement was awarded after a vigorous tender process and will provide Misco with supply agreements in the following five lots: Desktops, Notebooks, Peripherals, Maintenance, and Apple.

This is the second time Misco UK is being awarded this framework. For more information on Misco in Education, visit the Misco Public Sector site.
